Chicago October 8–10

SWOG Cancer Research Network's mission is to significantly improve lives through cancer clinical trials and translational research.

ABOUT SWOG CANCER RESEARCH NETWORK

SWOG Cancer Research Network is a worldwide group of researchers who design and conduct cancer clinical trials. The group's goal is to change medical practice to improve the lives of people with cancer. SWOG trials test new ways to diagnose and treat disease, as well as prevent it.

SWOG's members practice at more than 1,300 institutions nationwide and in nine other countries. The network includes 32 of the National Cancer Institute (NCI)-designated cancer centers, as well as community hospitals, private practices, and physician group networks. SWOG is one of five cooperative groups in the NCI's National Clinical Trials Network.

ABOUT THE HOPE FOUNDATION FOR CANCER RESEARCH

Founded in 1993, The Hope Foundation for Cancer Research partners with SWOG to provide support of oncology research in lung, breast, gastrointestinal, and genitourinary cancers, as well as melanoma, myeloma, leukemia, lymphoma, and rare diseases. Hope funds critical, need-based research grants, fellowships, training events, physician education, and patient advocacy.

SWOG GROUP MEETINGS

Progress in cancer research is most quickly accomplished through collaboration and partnership, through sharing of both successes and challenges in discovery. To facilitate this, The Hope Foundation supports SWOG's biannual group meetings, where physician researchers and oncology professionals convene each year to share results, to innovate, and to present novel ideas for future progress.

GROUP MEETING SPONSORSHIP & EXHIBITS

At each meeting, SWOG presents industry partners with the opportunity to promote their products and services. The benefits of participation in sponsorship and exhibiting programs include exposure to roughly 1,000 oncology professionals per meeting, as well as those detailed on the following pages in accordance with the levels described.

Meeting Sponsorship

Why Support SWOG Group Meetings?

SWOG's network includes more than 20,000 individual members across 1,300 member sites nationwide – and beyond. Sponsorship provides vital educational opportunities and resources to the oncology professionals who design and conduct SWOG's leading-edge clinical trials. Help them discover best practices, advance treatment protocols, and work across communities to bring the most effective care to patients.
